A PUBLIC HOUSE KEEPER SHOT BY A PROVOST MA The public house known as the New World, No. 337 Budson street, of which Valentine Van Sickles is the proprietor; was the scene of a desperate shooting affray on Monday evening, which came near resulting in the death of Mr. Van Sickles. From a report made to inspector Carpenter by Captain Dickson, of the Twenty-eighth president; it appears that Reuben K. Lee, a special provest masshal of the Third district, had charged Van Sickles with interfering with him to the discharge of his duty, by harboring a deserter of whom be was in search. Van Sickles denied the allegations preferred by Lee, and an angry altercation was the result. During the quarrel Lee drow his revolver and fired three shots—one daking effect in Van Sickles' left arm, one tearing up his soulp, and the third one grazing his back so as to cause the blood to flow freely. None of the wounds are thought to be of a serious character. The discharge of firearms brought officers Fairchild and Jay to the spot, and they arrested Lee, who was taken before Justice Bodge and required to give ball in the sum of $1,500 to answer the charge of felonious assault. on street, of which Valentine Van Sickles is the pro-TERRIBLE ASSAULT WITH A CARTRUNG -Late on Monday night James Daly and James Twomey met in the porter use of Patrick Bird, 424 West street, and after pa taking freely of fiquor got into an altercation, whereupon Twomey ran into the street, and, seizing a rung from a cart, death Daly a powerful blow on the head, knocking blim insensible to the floor. Humway Rossert.—At an early hour yesterday norming Samuel W Cairnes, of 195 Washington street, while passing through Grand street, near Thompson. was struck a violent blow in the face and prostrated on the walk. As soon as he could recover himself Cairnes screamed for help, when officer Adams, of the Eughth precinct, ran up, but before reaching the victim he had been forcibly robbed of $55 in cash. Jeremian Alexander, a colored waiter, and Flizabeth Ransom, a black woman, were arrested charged with being the robbers, and the officer took them to the station house for the night. Justice Bodge, before whom the prisoners were subsequently arranged, committed them for trial in default of $1,500 bail each.

City Intelligence. SHAD POLES ORSTRUCTING NAVIGATION-ACTION OF THE PILOT

being made to the Pilot Commissioners respecting the obstructions occasioned to navigation by the shad poles planted in the bay and river by the lishermon of Long Island, Staten Island and New Jersey, an expedition was sent out yesterday morning to demolish the said poles, with the neis and other apparatus. The expedition was under the command of a special agent of the Pilot Commissioners, and consisted of the tugboat Chase and the police boat No. 1. The former had a company of riggers on board to pull up the poies, and the latter carried a strong body of the harbor police as a supporting army in case of any hostile demonstrations on the part of exasperated fishermen. A number of poies have been griven into the channel, and the agent of the Pilot Commissioners posterday had seveeing made to the Pilot Commissioners respecting the poies have been griven into the channel, and the agent of the Pilot Commissioners yesterday had several of, them uproteed from their positions below Quarantine. The fishermen, hearing of these operations, started out in small hosts, and it was feared that some violent opposition was intended; but nothing of the kind took piace the agent of the Pilot Commissioners had an interview with the fishermen, who represented that they would suffer irreparable injury in the loss of their nets, &u., if, the work of uprooting the poles was persisted in. On their promising to remove them immediately thomselves, the work was suspended. Several other parts of the bay and North river, between the flattery and Spuyten Duyvil, were visited, with the same result—the fishermen promising to remove the obstructions themselves. "Go TO ALBANT."-A placard thus headed was posted i various parts of the city yesterday. It consisted of an appeal to the workingmen to go to Albany to resist the passage of the Tax Levy at present before the legisla-ture The workingmen who read the advice "Go to Albany" very naturally asked who would pay the damages.

Queen Victoria Resolved Not to Make

War on Germany.

The Crown Prince of Russia to Go on a Matrimonial Tour.

Lospon, March 18, 1864. England Not Likely to G. to War with Germany-The Box sons Why of Que'n Victoria-The War Making Power Rests with the Crown Solely-Peace Declared Beforehand by Victoria to Both Waigs and lories, de., de.

You need have no expectation that this country will ever go to war with Prussia and the small German States. Britain in the present European difficulties has been given-me within the last few days by a person who has abandhave a war with her German children and relatives. Her Majesty herself, as the descendant of a King George, or Hanover, who was called to the throne of a people whose language he never learned to speak, is more German than English. Then her late husband was a German prince, and Prince Alfred, the Queen's second son, inherits the dukedom of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha.

Then the Princess Royal is the wife of the Crown Prince, and the destined O: en of Prussia. Then Princess Alice is married to Prince Louis of Hea nother small German State. How can a monarch-and that monarch a woman-go to war with her own flesh and blood, so widely distributed over a State? In this constitutional monarchy "the King" (or Queen; has one piece of real power. He has the sole power of declaring war. Queen Victoria exercises it. A ministry can resign ional or political power in Great Britain can make the Crown embark in a war against his individual will. On the other hand, if the Crown declares war and the ommons withhold supplies, that war must cease. But the veto power over war or peace is the sole prerogative

if they want war and the Crown says no; but what of that? Another ministry must come in. No constitu-

In this case the Queen has undoubtedly exercised it. In all the debates in Paritament the opposition (conserva-tive), while cutting up Paimerston's administration, have in all the denates in Parliament the opposition, conservative), while cutting up Paimerston's administration, have refrained from talking war.

The Princess Royal of Prussia came to see her mother last November at Windsor, and then and there the question of peace and war between Great Britain and the Gorman States was settled. In January Lord berby went down to Osborn, and her Majesty thou told the ereat tony leader that peace was the word. Both Loed Russent and Lord Palmerston have tried to builty her Majesty, but the gracidouchter of the man who wared a senseless war against three millions of subjects, scattered over the American continent, showed berself achip of the obstinate old block.

Then, too, Dame Rumor says the Queen is a little-lealous of the fair Aexandra of Benmark, who has partially eclipsed the "first lady of the land," now grown somewhat pease in the court and drawingrooms; and then, while there is a great deal of individual love for faderland, there is mightly little for the poor Banes, Even in the royal christian Edward," would not include the mother, and thus paye the way for a second Alexander the Great. No; the Queen of Great Britain will not go to war with Germany Austria and Prussia are in close alliance, and will stand side by side, whatever may happen. I believe the war will be cheed before the middle of May, or else both France and Italy will be in the meilee. In that eventure is no telling what combinations and complications will grow out of it.

PARIS, March 13, 1864. Ammunition—An American Cartridge Machine, &c.
An old French officer with whom I was conversing yesterday as to the prospect of a general war abrouged his shoulders, and, giving that peculiar expression to his face which in a Frenchman may mean nothing or a great deal, replied that personally he believed that war would beavoided. Nevertheless he said that the activity in preparsince the Italian war, and that a large extra force has been set at work at Vincennes making musket and riffecartridges, which are being turned out by the million daily. ment has just purchased an American invention for the manufacture of rifle cartridges, which enables them to make about twice the number with the same force that, they did before. The inventor came over himself with his models, and, after selling a right to this government, for some fifty thousand france, has also disposed of it tethe Belgian and Prussian governments. I understand that the apparatus is in use in the South, but has not been adopted by our government.

Senepal Savages to be Sent to Mexico-Large Shipments of Goods to the United States - Death of a New Yorker, de. The Patrie states that the foreign legion of Mexico will e composed in part of the natives of the French poseessions of Senegal, a set of wild, reckless barbarians, who of course, having no sympathies with the Mexican people, will be of good service in slaughtering them when they become restless and tired of the foreign yoke which the Emperor of the French, in his extended benevolence, is about imposing upon them, Applications for service in this foreign legion and for service in the civil branch of the government poured in by thousands to the Archduke while he was in Paris, many of the applicants expressing a desire in Paris, many of the applicants expressing a desire to accompany him on his experimental trip. It is said, however, that but a small number of persons outside of his personal suite will go with him, and he has declared that as in assuming the throne of Mexico he forgets his position as an Austrian prince, so he will require of all who take service under him to become naturalized Mexican citizens.

Goods are being sent from here to America now in larger quantities than at any time since the commencement of the war. Gold will have to be sent out of the country is abundance to pay for fineries, one half of which will be in the gutter six months after their arrival in the United States States
Robert W. Halstead, of New York, died at the Grand Hotel on Saturday last, of consumption. Mr. Halstead had been ill for some time. He was a member of the Board of Brokers of New York. The body will, I learn, be taken to New York for interment.

Panis, March 18, 1864. The Emperor Not Anxious for War About Denmark-The Police Break Up a Political Meeting-The Prince Imperial's Buthday-Probabilities of His Reaching the Throne-Ex Senator Gwin as a Fettler in the Mexican Empire-He Goes as a Cotonist, not as a Politician, de. Whatever may be the ambitious desires and designs of Napoleon on the Danish question, I do not believe he is anxious to attain their realization by going to war at present if he can avoid it. Excepting in a war with Eng land the French people would be wrought up to no eathu-siasm, and would grumble terribly at the enormous adchional taxes which they would be required to pay.
Should Austria and Italy come to the sword's point in the spaing, it is probable that before matters were settled.
France would be brought into the conflict. But I do not believe the Emperor intends war if he can possibly

The government has just performed an act which will add very much to its present unpopularity in the good city of Paris. On Sunday evening last, while about thirty or forty persons were assembled at the house of M. Garnier Pages, one of the liberal candidates for the Corps Legislatif in the Fifth circumscription, a commis-sary of police, with several officers, entered the house and dispersed the assembly. According to French law no twenty persons can meet anywhere for any purpose whatever without a special authorization; but the Prefect of Police has signified his willingness to grant a general permission for persons to assemble at the houses of candidates, provided they are individually invited by letter. This had been done in the case referred to; but the police took advantage of the quibble that the letters the police took advantage of the quibble that the letters were signed, not by M. Pages bimself, but by his season law. The government, however, meems decided that the laws shall be strictly construed. The Moniture of Wednesday contrins a paragraph staking that meetings have been held in which, under the pretext of making a political propaganda, the government has been violently attacked. These reanions, it states, have been discolved and judicial proceedings commenced against the proprietors of the houses in which they were held. "No public reunion," the Moniture adds, "is permitted to baneld without special authorization, and political gatherings are not exampt from this rule. The government, in dispersing these gatherings, has done nothing but its duty, and it will continue to execute the laws."

The effect of all this will be the same that Persigny's.

The effect of all this will be the same that Persigny's attacks and upon M. Thiers: M. Garnier Pages will, with
